The term "idiot" is from the "idiota" by which the ancient Greeks designated the class that could not vote. It's quite different now.

The Ormsby County Republican Central Committee have resolved to hold a County Convention on Friday, Sep. 24th, to nominate a county ticket.

Many inquiries are being made by California parties in regard to the lands in the southern portion of the county on the line of the proposed railroad.

T. J. Osborne and wife were incoming passengers on Tuesday's Milford stage. Mrs. Osborne has been away since April last, visiting relatives at San Francisco, and Mr. Osborne was in attendance on the Silver Party Convention at Carson.

The County Democratic Party was supposed to be dead, but take a look at the two new tickets and you'll observe its bones prominently sticking forth. All are old staunch old Democrats with one exception of one name on the People's and two names on the Silver ticket.

J. EISENMANN wishes to call the attention of the various school trustees of the county to his stock of School Supplies consisting of the Patent Seamless Blackboards, Slated Cloth, and State Paint for renewing old boards, Rules, Crayons, Noisless Slates, single and double Writing Tablets, Pencils, Bells, etc., etc. New goods and new prices.

It is authoritatively given out that the recent Democratic State Convention at Carson possesses no significance beyond that of continuing the name of the party for possible effort two years hence in opposition to the John F. Dennis faction of the party. None of the nominees of the Convention will make any canvass.

The World's Fair Medal and Diploma awarded to Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

The highest award was given on every claim, comprising superiority in leavening power, keeping properties, purity and excellence. This verdict has been given by the best jury ever assembled for such a purpose, backed by the recommendation of the Chief Chemist of the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., who made an elaborate examination and test of all the baking powders. This is pre-eminently the highest authority on such matters in America.

This verdict conclusively settles the question and proves that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is superior in every way to any other brand.

NOTE.—The Chief Chemist rejected the Alum baking powders, stating to the World's Fair jury that he considered them unwholesome.

The convention was representative; its action harmonious; its platform is broad and comprehensive; a feeling of gratification over its ticket justifies every hope of ultimate victory in November. There are no soreheads, no hatchet dug up. Good-will and unification characterize the chrysalisizing sentiment.

The delegates and nominees spent the closing hours of the afternoon in handshaking and congratulations.

As a new body without old time trained leaders much new and vigorous blood has been infused into the party. In no sense was there a slate. In no-wise was a boss influence apparent. The honors fell where party fealty, and personal integrity pointed.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Correspondence of THE RECORD.
WASHINGTON, September 12, 1894.

The five hundred members of the department of the Potomac G. A. R. who have gone to the annual encampment at Pittsburgh from Washington, carried with them a document that will be heard from by the Cleveland administration, and what is heard will not be pleasant, either. That document is a resolution adopted by the department of the Potomac, asking that some action be taken by the encampment concerning the wholesale dismissal of Union veterans by this administration, in violation of the general law as well as of the civil service law, both of which say in plain language that other things being equal, Union veterans shall have the preference in government employment. The resolution was adopted in executive session and will not be made public until it has been submitted to the encampment, but I happen to know that it is both vigorous and pointed.

This matter of the discharge of Union soldiers—somewhere in the neighborhood of two thousand of them have been dismissed from the government service since March 4, 1893—will not be allowed to rest with the G. A. R. Many of the men dismissed are not members of that organization, and for that reason an independent organization has been formed, composed entirely of Union soldiers who have been dismissed from the government service by the Democrats, which will act as an auxiliary to the G. A. R. in bringing their unjust treatment to the notice of the public, and in attempting to get justice for themselves. This organization has held several meetings, and is in possession of the record of every veteran dismissed, but it will not decide what action it will take until it has known what disposition the G. A. R. encampment will make of the resolution sent from Washington, as the desire is to allow the G. A. R. to take the initiative.

The recent action of the sugar planters of Louisiana, in deciding to act with the Republican party, recalls a prediction made by ex-governor Warmouth, who was in Washington during the fight over the sugar schedule in the Senate. He told ex-Speaker Reed and Representative Dazel, of Pennsylvania, that if they would agree to make a half a dozen protection speeches in Louisiana he would promise that at least three Republican members would be elected to the House from that state. Neither of them made any promise. In fact, the prominent Republicans while willing to give all men a cordial welcome to the Republican party, are rather disposed to leave these Louisiana sugar planters to work out their own political salvation. They have not forgotten the efforts which have been made time after time by the Republican party to make these very same sugar planters see that their prosperity, as well as that of the country at large, was dependent upon the success of the Republican party nor the manner in which those efforts were received. The sugar planters took all the benefits they could get from the Republicans and continued to work and vote for the Democrats. Now they are getting paid for being blind to their own interests, and the average Republican believes in letting them do their own weeping. How the Louisiana Democrats in Congress take the move may be gathered from this plain language used by Representative Meyer, the only one of them now in Washington: "It may mean that a Republican delegation will be sent to the next House from Louisiana and that Republican Presidential electors may be chosen in '96. This movement is no more than might have been expected. The Democratic Congress has dealt shamefully with the great interest of Louisiana after repeatedly promising to sustain it. The party has received strong and consistent support from the state for many years, and the first time it secures complete control of the government it proceeds to inflict upon Louisiana the hardest blow she was ever given by legislation. We have not only been dealt unfairly with, but have been deceived; in a word, 'buncoed.' Mr. Meyer is lingering in Washington because he is ashamed to go home and face his constituents. The best assurance he has been able to get from Secretary Carlisle is that the administration will kill the bill for free sugar which has already passed the House.

Representative Holman, of Indiana, before leaving for his home to begin his canvass for re-election, confessed that he was far from confident of succeeding, and intimated that he did not blame the voters for being disposed to deprive the Democrats of the power they have shown themselves incapable of wisely using. While Mr. Holman voted for all the Democratic legislation during the present Congress he tried hard to persuade the bosses not to permit much of it. He saw the ruin that would follow, which other members of his party either would not or could not see. And now he sees himself in danger of being involved in the party ruin.

Secretary Carlisle's tariff decisions are going to make no end of litigation. Nearly every day he makes one that brings a notice from the parties interested of an intention to contest it in the courts.
